

For Immediate Release
September 21, 2015

Contact: Kate Munsell
E-Mail: media@ntd.org

Joint Fundraiser for National Theatre of the Deaf and American School for the Deaf, featuring Deaf Mime Artist JJ Jones

West Hartford, CT: The National Theatre of the Deaf (NTD), in collaboration with the American School for the Deaf, is pleased to announce a joint fundraising event featuring a special performance by celebrated Deaf Mime Artist JJ Jones, taking place October 3, 2015 at 7:30 PM at the Kingswood-Oxford Roberts Theatre, Troutbrook Drive, West Hartford, CT.

The fundraiser stands to benefit both the National Theatre of the Deaf (NTD) and the American School for the Deaf (ASD), as well as ASD's Alumni Association.

The fundraiser includes a presentation by the National Theatre of the Deaf, who will be performing an excerpt from their current touring repertoire. Following the NTD presentation will be a special performance by JJ Jones, Deaf Mime Artist, who was trained by world renowned Marcel Marceau in Paris, France. All performances are family-friendly.

Tickets may be purchased in advance by sending a check by Monday, September 28 to:

Steven Simmon, ASDAA Treasurer
62 Coolidge Ave
Newington, CT 06111

Advanced Purchase:

Adults:	$22
Student/Senior:	$20
Over 5 – High School:	$18
Kids 4 and Under:	Free

At Door:

$24
$24
$24
Free

For more information about the National Theatre of the Deaf, visit ntd.org.
For more information about JJ Jones, visit jjmime.com.

These performances are open to the public and are suitable for all ages. Members of the press are welcome and encouraged. For more information, please contact National Theatre of the Deaf at (860) 574-9063 (Tel.) or (860) 607-1334 (VP).

###